

Advice to Women

STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL.

This is a very important consideration in a woman's correspondence with Mrs. Pinkham. It is a great satisfaction to feel that one woman can write to another telling her the most private and confidential details about her illness, and know that her letter will be seen by a woman only—a woman full of sympathy for her sick sisters, and with a knowledge of woman's ills greater than that possessed by any other person.

Mrs. Pinkham never violates the confidence thus entrusted to her, and although she publishes thousands of testimonials from women who have been benefited by her advice and medicine, never in all her experience has she published such a letter without the full consent, and often by special request of the writer.

The reason Mrs. Pinkham is so amply qualified to give advice in cases of female ills is for the reason that about one hundred thousand cases come to her each year—some personally, others by mail, and this has been going on for twenty years, day after day, and day after day. Twenty years of constant success—think of the knowledge thus gained. Surely women are wise in seeking advice from a woman of such experience, especially when it is absolutely free. Mrs. Pinkham's address is Lynn, Mass.

As an illustration of the good coming from such advice we herewith publish two letters of Mrs. E. F. Hayes, the reading of which should give every sick woman confidence in Mrs. Pinkham's ability to help them. These are only two of thousands of the same kind of letters which Mrs. Pinkham has on file.

Mrs. Hayes' First Letter Appealing to Mrs. Pinkham for Help.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have been under Boston doctors' treatment for a long time without any relief. They tell me I have a fibroid tumor. I cannot sit down without great pain, and the soreness extends up my spine. I have bearing-down pains both back and front. My abdomen is swollen, and I have had flowing spells for three years. My appetite is not good. I cannot walk on my feet for any length of time. The symptoms of Fibroid Tumor given in your little book accurately describes my case, so I write to you for advice."—(Signed) Mrs. E. F. HAYES, 252 Dudley St. (Roxbury), Boston, Mass.

Note the result of Mrs. Pinkham's advice—although she advised Mrs. Hayes, of Boston, to take her medicine—which she knew would help her—her letter contained a mass of additional instructions as to treatment, all of which helped to bring about the happy result.

No other female medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine has such a record of cures of female troubles or such hosts of grateful friends. Do not be persuaded that any other medicine is just as good. Any dealer who suggests something else has no interest in your case. He is seeking a larger profit. Follow the record of this medicine, and remember that the thousands of cures of women whose letters are constantly printed in this paper were not brought about by "something else," but by LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND. For sale the world over.

$5000 FORFEIT if we cannot forthwith produce the original letters and signatures of above testimonials, which will prove their absolute genuineness.
Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co., Lynn, Mass.

HAPPENINGS IN ILLINOIS CITIES AND TOWNS

POLICE CONFISCATE GAMBLERS' DEVICES

Chief Purdy Says That if Dens Resume He Will Send Offenders to Jail.

FLUNDER OF GAMBLER CAPTURED AND CONFISCATED.
"Red and black" spindle with electric attachment, permitting operator to stop it wherever desired. Craps table with electric attachment and magnetic dice. 2,000 new dice of all descriptions. 300 loaded dice. 100 partly loaded and marked dice. Complete "hold-out" apparatus whereby an entire deck of cards can be used if desired by the operator. "Phony" cards.

In the raids on the gambling dens of East St. Louis the Police Department brought to light paraphernalia enough to stock half a dozen Monte Carlos. All sorts of gambling devices, which Chief Purdy calls robbing contrivances, were brought into the police station, which, owing to the haste in which the gamblers left their quarters, were left behind. All this paraphernalia will occupy space in the police station until it is decided to destroy it.

Chief Purdy says that there was apparently a decent sort of sure thing and other kinds of gamblers in East St. Louis. These gamblers worked things so quietly that for several years their presence had hardly been noticed. Within the last few days they became bolder, and with the addition of the ever present local talent appearances indicated a wide-open town. Just at this time Chief of Police Purdy became active. The Chief gave his men instructions to close all dens and to bring all gamblers' paraphernalia to headquarters.

If any effort is made in the future to resume the gamblers, it is said, will be sent to the county jail.

SAYS DYED HAIR DISCREDITS HER.

In Denying Damages for Lost Tresses Justice Sympathizes With Young Woman Plaintiff—Scores Men.

"This case," said Justice John C. Robertson yesterday, in denying damages to Miss Maude Stone of No. 208 Morgan street from Alexander F. Godfrey, a downtown hairdresser, for the loss of her hair, alleged to have been caused by bleaching, "is a striking illustration of what devotees of fashion will do to be in the mode."

"Nature had provided the plaintiff with auburn hair, which was not to her liking. She therefore sought by art to improve on nature, with the usual disastrous results. 'In connection with this matter, I cannot refrain from remarking that plaintiff is not alone in her desire to improve upon what nature has given us. It is not even confined to the fair sex, but we find the men, the 'lords of creation,' dying their hair and bodies by art to improve on what nature has given them. They worship at the fountain of perpetual youth."

"All of this is done by both men and women for the purpose of deceiving, to make others think that they will profit by their example, and that they will have their hair fall in the deception all mankind are witnesses."
